

RAFT RACE

raft (we're still trying to determine its shape), ended up second.

The day was highlighted by the appearance of one Harvey Redak who officially began the race when he trumpeted "Row, Row, Row Your Boat," and the three-and-a-half-hour trek down the river, according to Mr. Eastland, went smoothly.

When asked if we could count on this becoming an annual event, we were informed by Mr. Eastland that we could indeed. So to those who are so adventurous and so inclined, the warning gun has been sounded.

BSW

Gary Pipkin's most unusual rig which sported a pick-up truck tarpaulin for a sail.
