

On Their Way to Keg of Beer

Rafts and other vessels of every description fill the Connecticut River at Deep River for the town's fifth annual river raft race Saturday. The event proved to be a frenetic, fun-filled happening. The winner of the race was "Rubber Lips," owned by a group of Lyme residents. First prize was a keg of beer, which was consumed at Nott Island, the finish point of the one-mile race. Story Page 1C (Courant Photo by Richard E. Bergen).